Save lives - get to the vet in time

Dyrlægehuset Farum

MY RABBIT IS NOT EATING!

How long has it been?

0-2 hours	2-6 hours	6-12 hours	Over 12 hours

How is your rabbit's behaviour?

Active	Sitting still	Pushing stomach foward floor/ Sitting scrunched up	Lying flat or completely still

→ Dangerous! Serious condition! Requires immediate medical or surgical treatment NOW! Do not wait for tomorrow Call (+45) 44 22 22 26

How is the gastro-intestinal system?
1) Is the stomach soft (or tense and distended)?
2) Have you seen faecal output ("poops")?

1) Yes 2) Yes	1) Yes 2) Yes, but small, dark or uneven	1) Yes 2) No	1) No 2) No

Wait 1-2 hrs max and reevaluate

Get the rabbit to the vet as soon as possible to receive fluid therapy and pain management and resolve underlying issues

OBS: It is important to never start treatment at home with supportive feeding or prescription medicine before the rabbit is seen by a vet. Firstly you may mask the symptoms for the vet and secondly, if the rabbit has an overly full stomach, an obstruction in the intestinal tract, organ dysfunction, or is dehydrated, can the use of the above be life threatening without proper veterinary help by a rabbit-savvy vet.